

Dear Principal,

Our educational landscape is changing every day. The dynamics of social, economic and technological change have dramatically impacted the lives of our students and parents. Leading a school with teenage students and professional faculty is a challenging endeavor. Over the past 33 years here at Lutheran High School of Orange County (LHSOC), we have also experienced many of the same issues you face now.

I am writing you today because LHSOC has recently grown our ministry through the creation of an online high school, Orange Lutheran Online (OLO). By offering our extensive curriculum in an 8-week online format, we give students the advantage of a relational connection to teachers, staff, and friends here at LHSOC, as well as increased flexibility with their academic schedule.

The feedback we've received so far has been extremely encouraging. Blending our campus classes with this online option has been a tremendous blessing as students and their parents are discovering a convenient way to accomplish schoolwork in a safe, nurturing online environment.

The E<sup>3</sup> Partnership model has been designed around the needs of private schools nationwide and represents a unique opportunity to enhance your current curriculum with a Christ-centered, accredited online option. This partnership allows you to leverage a premier learning environment, keep your students on track toward graduation, and save precious faculty and curriculum resources.

With this unique partnership, Orange Lutheran Online can help you enhance your own school's mission – through electives, dual-credit classes, curriculum development network and summer school.

We would love to partner with you and share in your future successes. I personally encourage you to prayerfully consider how these partnership options could impact you and the students at your school.

Be God's,

Gregg A. Pinick
